The Webbing Stretching Machine has become an irreplaceable piece of equipment for the lounge manufacturer, being simple, economical and unbreakable.

Integration of our Webbing Stretching Machine into your work place will substantially increase production and improve product quality control. The Webbing Stretching machine always achieves a consistent stretch of the webbing and therefore no variation in the seat. This labour saving machine has an easy reload feature, and its innovative design safeguards employees' health by providing the opportunity to work standing up and thus, eliminating potential spinal damage.
